Voting Discrimination-Civil Rights

On March 9, 1965, a confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that on that date a conference was held by Martin Luther King, Jr., President of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, (SCLC) and his advisors, comprised of Bayard Rustin (organizer of the March on Washington), Andrew Young (Executive Director of the SCLC), Jack Greenberg (director of the legal defense and education fund of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, (NAACP)), Harry Wachtel (New York City Attorney) and Clarence Jones (Special Counsel to King). The discussion, according to the source, concerned an injunction prohibiting King and his followers from marching from Selma to Montgomery, Alabama, on March 9, 1965, and what action they should take in view of the injunction.

King, the source said, told them that he was terribly depressed over Federal Judge Henry Johnson's order, and said there was a general feeling of depression in Selma, Alabama. King said there was a feeling that "we are engaged in a kind of federal conspiracy, which in substance says, 'use a wrong argument from being wrong and you, the robber, can continue to rob for three more days and we will give you a hearing on whether or not robbery was wrong'". He said there was nothing in the order that was suggestive of moral principles.

Following Kings' statement, a period ensued during which all presented their positions as to whether King should abide by the orders of the injunction. Their comments were as follows: u

Jack Greenberg said he conferred with Attorney General Nicholas de B Katzenbach earlier, who said that King should be informed that he had sent two lawyers into Judge Johnson's court, and in fact, he had called the Judge and asked him not to enjoin King and his group from marching. However, according to Greenberg, Judge Johnson said that Assistant Attorney General Doar had endorsed his order. u

Greenberg said he told the Attorney General that all he was doing was joining Governor Wallace of Alabama, and that he was getting an order that would make no difference because nobody intended to march to Montgomery anyway. u

Harry Wachtel said the real issue that King faced, in his opinion, was that he could do nothing other than inform the Federal Government that "they" were lined up behind Governor Wallace in denial of that freedom he spoke about and that there was no alternative but to march. u

Greenberg, in reply, said "March where? Because they intended to march to the bridge originally. Judge Johnson only enjoined the march from Selma, Alabama." He said if they announced that they were marching merely to the point of brutality (the bridge where the trouble took place on Sunday) it would not be a real confrontation. It would, Greenberg said, give the State Troopers a way out, by saying their purpose was to keep them from going to Montgomery. In other words, Greenberg said, their feeling was that there must be a confrontation and "we must, by our witness and our own bodies and souls, immobilize the brutality of this police force by absolving - by exposing it and everything else let them be glutted by their own barbarianism." "Anyway", Greenberg said, "you can't go too far." u

Harry Wachtel said the march had to go forward and that it would be stopped, therefore, King did not have to worry whether or not he would be violating the injunction. Quite to the contrary, Wachtel said, he (King) had to face up to the fact that he would be held in violation and face it by not trying to weasle away from it. Furthermore, King's marching would go as far as the physical confrontation would take it, Wachtel opined. But for "us" to announce in advance an obedience to that "improper injunction" would be inadvisable, Wachtel said. u

Greenberg said in reply, that it was not announcing obedience to it but instead, was just announcing their intention of last night. u

Wachtel replied that "we" did it over their own free will last night, prompting Clarence Jones to remark, "That's the whole question." Wachtel said that was not the issue and said, "instead, Wallace is not the man that is going to get us the vote. All over 'The New York Times' today you see where the vote is going to come from. King said this is going to be won in the streets of Selma and I think this is very basic. This was not my position at six o'clock last night." He said the situation had changed as indicated by the request for Federal Troops which emanated from Roy Wilkins of the NAACP; and as indicated by the demonstrations in various cities. King, Wachtel said, could not allow the Federal injunction to stop him from marching. Furthermore, he said he did not think violence would ensue because he would be halted very early; and he, King, should not be too concerned about his record of being in contempt of the injunction. u

Greenberg said he was in agreement because he did not think the injunction would be upheld for about 20 different reasons. u

Wachtel said he concurred and opined that it would be unwise for King to start to march by saying that he had been enjoined from going to Montgomery, therefore, was only going to the point of brutality. u

Rustin was of the opinion that King should march and for him not to do so would cause incalculable harm to him and to the non-violent movement for the future. He told King that for the sake of people who believe in non-violence he must go through with the march. U

After much discussion, Wachtel advised King that it was his opinion that the injunction was illegal, improper, and was granted without the request of any party. Furthermore, Wachtel said King's position should be to the effect that his counsel had advised him that the injunction had no constitutional propriety, and if he (King) was in anyway halted, he would be vindicated by the law of the land. The principal position agreed upon, according to Wachtel, was that King would march. U

The conference ended on the note that Jack Greenberg and Harry Wachtel would prepare the necessary legal documents stating their position; after which the Attorney General would be notified of their plans. U

Dear Mr. Hoover;

Based on some literature I have been reading and the way things are going here in the U.S. Also the way The President and the Legislature is taking away our rights that were supposed to be guaranteed by the Constitution, I feel sure that the white house itself is planning the overthrow of our system of government. And to make the United States a part of a great system of Socialist and Communist world.

I feel that you are a friend of the free and democratic system of Government of the people for the people and by the people. How can we stop it? I think that the Government has used the negro which is infiltrated with communism with Martin Luther King the biggest one of all.

I will appreciate your letter. We must do something in a hurry if our country is to survive communism.

Thank you very much.

Dear [REDACTED]

Your letter of March 4th has been received.

With respect to your inquiries, information contained in the files of the FBI must be maintained as confidential in accordance with regulations of the Department of Justice and is available for official use only. Therefore, I trust you will understand why I am not in a position to comment along the lines you have mentioned.

With regard to Earl Pruslon and William Johnson, I would like to point out Pruslon assisted this Bureau by furnishing information on subversive activities from 1910 to July, 1933, while Johnson did likewise from 1942 to 1944, during which time they were compensated; however, they were not Special Agents. Neither Pruslon nor Johnson has been connected with the FBI since those dates. Their personal ventures and their opinions are strictly their own and the FBI is not in a position to comment on these in any way whatsoever.

Enclosed is some literature I trust will be of interest to you.

Sincerely yours,

J. Edgar Hoover

Dear Mr. Hoover;

Because of recent controversy in our community we are attempting to accumulate factual information about the Highlander Folk School of Monteagle, Tennessee. We are concerned about this information as it relates to Martin Luther King, who is appearing at the University of Colorado later this month.

b7(c)
[REDACTED] the "Ethics and Morality" sub-committee of the Social Responsibility Committee of the Unitarian Church of Boulder. I am assisting in a community project of preparing a file of factual information which will be presented to the Public Library. It would be most helpful if this material could be made available before Mr. King's visit.

Following are the specific questions for which we need answers:

1. Was there an act of legislature of the State of Tennessee to close the Highlander Folk School, Monteagle, Tennessee, as a subversive school?
2. If now what was the action taken by the State of Tennessee against the Highlander Folk School?
3. What were the specific charges made against the Highlander Folk School?
4. On the basis of what charge did Highlander Folk School lose its charter?
5. Were there any communists on the Staff or Faculty of the Highlander Folk School throughout 1957 or thereafter?
6. Are there now any communists on the Staff or Faculty of the Highland Educational Research Foundation in Knoxville, Tennessee?
7. Was there, to the best of your knowledge, any training given at the Highlander Folk School, which was based on the principles of Marxism, Leninism, Stalinism, or Communism?
8. Can the F.B.I. say whether or not the Highlander Folk School, Monteagle, Tennessee, or the Highland Educational Research Foundation, Knoxville, Tenn., has in any way used methods or principles or any training of people in the methods of Marxist, Leninist, Stalinist or Communistic tactics?

NOT RECORDED
191 MAR 12 1965

2 MAR 11 1965

9. Was Karl Prussian ever an agent of the F.B.I.?
10. If not an agent, what did he do for the F.B.I.?
11. Was Manning Johnson an agent of the F.B.I.?
12. If not an agent, what did he do for the F.B.I.?
13. Were they paid--if so how much?

Are either or both of them now, in any way, associated with the F.B.I.?

Thank you very much,

Sincerely,

"The New York Times", Friday, March 5, 1965, Page 29, Column 1, carries an article captioned, "Dr. King Reports Change in South". The article reports that King affirmed in New York, New York, on March 4, 1965, his conviction that more and more responsible people in the Southern states favored and supported the restoration of racial peace on the basis of social justice and equality.

King, the head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, was in New York City to receive the Eleanor Roosevelt Memorial Award for "enhancing the dignity of man". The United Jewish Appeal Women's Division of Greater New York presented the award, the article states.

King, according to the article, received a standing ovation from 4,000 women at the meeting, in the New York Hilton Hotel, after he had completed his acceptance speech. In the speech, he appealed for the abolition of what he called the three universal ills that afflict mankind today - "racial discrimination, poverty and war".

According to the article, it was at a news conference following his acceptance speech that King referred to the changing attitudes of Southern whites on the question of race relations.

ENCLOSURE

100-106670-981

MAR 15 1965

Martin Luther King, Jr. March 5, 1965

King indicated that he believed white resistance to the Civil rights movement had begun to recede, although he stressed, on the other hand, the immense difficulties that remain.

He said that in Alabama he was receiving increased sympathy from white people for the Civil rights cause.

In support of his views that the Civil rights movement has resulted in progress, King said that most of the communities in the deep South had been complying with the Public Accommodations Section of the Civil Rights Act.

King said during the news conference that he would join with the Marchers who will leave Selma, Alabama, next Sunday (March 7, 1965) on a trek to Montgomery, Alabama, to petition Governor George C. Wallace to put an end to discrimination and remove obstacles to the registration of Negro voters in his state.

In conclusion, the article noted that King was scheduled to leave New York on Friday, March 5, 1965, for Washington, D. C., to confer with President Johnson on the proposed new voting-rights legislation.

APPEARANCE OF DR. MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR., CHICAGO, ILLINOIS,
MARCH 13-14, 1965
RACIAL MATTERS

[REDACTED] furnished
the following information:

b7(D)

Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. is to appear in Chicago, Illinois on March 13 and 14, 1965. Possibly King will take part in a recorded television program on Saturday afternoon, March 13, 1965, to be shown during the late evening hours of March 13, 1965. Also King is to appear at the Liberty Baptist Church at 11:00 a.m. on March 14, 1965, the University of Chicago, 5801 South Ellis Avenue, during the afternoon of March 14, 1965, and as the guest speaker at the Sunday Evening Club, Orchestra Hall, 216 South Michigan Avenue, at 8:00 p.m., March 14, 1965.

A source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on March 10, 1965, that because of his busy schedule it is not believed King will take part in the television program of March 13, 1965 or the Sunday Afternoon Tea being sponsored by a neighborhood group at the University of Chicago. However, King is definitely to preach at the Liberty Baptist Church, 49th and South Parkway at 11:00 a.m. on March 14, 1965, and will appear as the guest speaker at the Sunday Evening Club at 8:00 p.m., March 14, 1965.

On March 10, 1965, details concerning the above were furnished to [REDACTED] Region I, 113th INTC Group, Chicago, Illinois, and [REDACTED] United States Secret Service, Chicago, Illinois.

In my humble opinion these

To do what. To murder, rape and pillage.

I get a slow burn when I

White lawyer Frank Jaffe is gunned down in Miami's Central Negro District — and the spotlight swings again on this dark, troubled neighborhood. What is it like to live there? Who are its inhabitants? And why do so many of them take to violence? Two Miami News reporters take a hard look at "The Pit."

Negro-Crammed 'Pit' Mean And Troubled

By DAVE STEINBERG
Reporter of The Miami News

Call it "The Pit", Magic City, Washington Heights, the downtown slum, or just the Central Negro District.

It is the place where 15,984 Negroes are squeezed between NW 5th and 28th Streets, and the Florida East Coast tracks and NW 7th Avenue. Few "oofays" (Negro slang for whites) live here.

This is where Frank Jaffe, a white lawyer, was killed by three Negro youths last Saturday night.

It is an oversized neighborhood with a tough street name like Goodbread Alley, an odor of open garbage and a clothesline of faded clean laundry. It's the backdrop for a Gershwin operetta. But it's real.

About half of the Negroes here work. The rest are too old, too young, too sick — or too pregnant.

For the older folks, a Social Security check is their salvation; for the young, direction; for the sick, medicine; and for the pregnant, welfare assistance.

An elderly couple sat on the wooden porch of their "shot-gun" (shack) waiting for the check to arrive. "These people live from check to check. If they didn't have it, they wouldn't eat," said mailman Woody Greene. "I can leave first class mail in any mailbox. But not a check. I have to hand deliver it or it disappears."

Three women and a graying man greeted Woody as he approached their 50-unit apartment house on his bike. Two young Negro teenagers in unbuttoned shirts came to a door and asked: "Is Jimmy sleepin?" He was. It was 10:45 a.m.

A loose-lipped woman on the third floor yelled she was too sick to come down for her check. So Woody hurdled three flights with it.

"It's the least I can do," said Woody.

A white milkman feels at ease, too.

"People have been good to me in the five years I've worked here. They give me sandwiches, keep the bad guys off my back. They say, 'He's our milkman. Leave him alone.'"

He starts out at 2 a.m. five days a week.

Friday morning two men shot a milkman in the wrist and robbed him of $200. The police caught the pair.

"Most of the trouble is caused by the newcomers. Every week someone new from a Georgia farm settles here. They're big on civil rights," said one Negro policeman curtly.

"Then their friends move in with them. They've got no respect for the law. They make it bad for everyone else," he continued. "Trouble is where you find it."

One white bar and package store owner had answers for his own questions.

"What really does a kid born here have? Nothing! He's got to move out and get an education to improve himself."

"How can you expect kids to grow up and be anything when their parents aren't much? I do business with the Negro. And I have known thousands of them. Treat them nice and they're mean to you. Treat them mean and they're nice. You figure it out." (He didn't want his name used because he'd be finished, he said.)

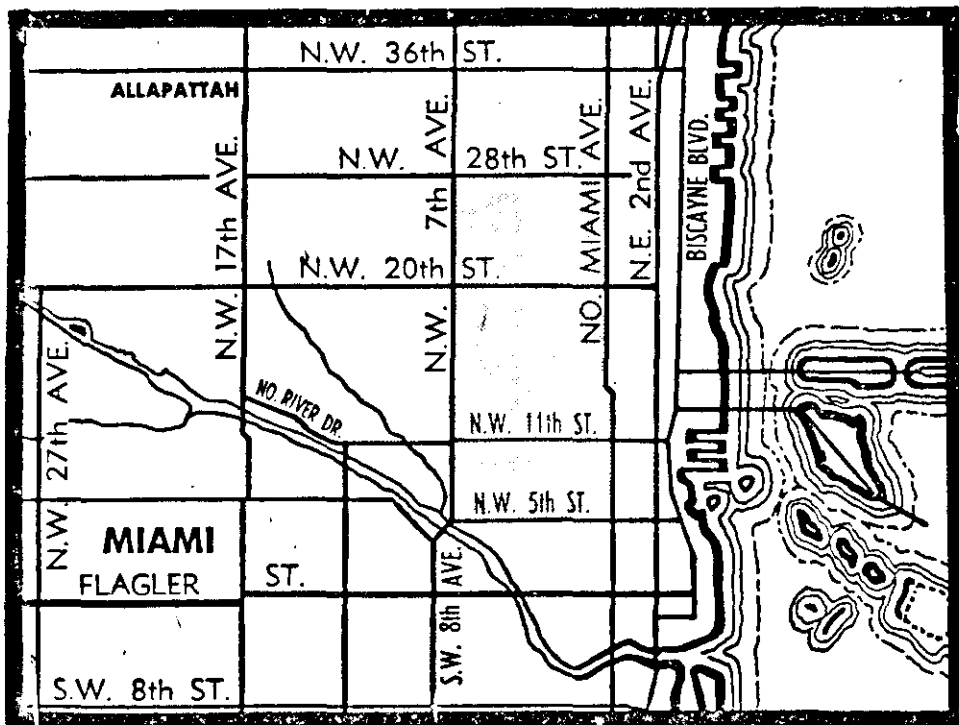

A weekly half-pint of gin customer came in. He cashed a check and carried his change and his bottle out with him.

There are few amusements downtown for the Negro.

This weekend he can go to the Ritz Theater and see "One Potato, Two Potato," go to the more expensive Knight Beat club and watch exotic dancer Vanessa Matthews, or go to one of the many saloons and see his friends.

"A trouble spot could be anywhere. It depends where we put the pressure," said a veteran white policeman.

"I've never had trouble with the kids," said the Negro cop who patrols the area. "If you got a clenched fist you get a reputation and there's no problem. Go easy and no telling what'll happen. I don't live here and I wouldn't."

Jaffe Killer Manhunt

A Gamble, Police Say

By MARTY SCHRAM

Reporter of The Miami News

Miami's crime pocket was strangely quiet. Teenage gangs kept clear of their hangouts. Cops with shotguns patrolled empty streets.

The crackdown began last Saturday night when 55-year-old Frank Jaffe, a prominent white attorney, was gunned down in an alley of Miami's Central Negro District.

He was murdered while running from teenage robbers, police said.

The lawmen swarmed in. Working overtime shifts they hauled in scores of teenage gang members.

And when it was over, police had their suspects and lots more. In the process, they solved more than a dozen armed robberies.

It was the beginning of the end of the 7th Street Bulls.

The "Bulls" are one of many gangs in the Negro ghetto. Three of them last week were charged with murdering Jaffe. Eight more are in for armed robbery.

Police say this is just the beginning.

"With the information we have received in the past couple of days, we hope to crack several more of those young robber gangs," a Miami detective said.

McGRIFF

W. BROWN

B. BROWN

"Sure it was a gamble rounding those kids up like that," the officer admitted privately. "We took a chance that we'd face some bad publicity because of it."

"But we had a murder to solve, and we knew these kids were also responsible for a whole bunch of robberies and muggings."

The three gang members charged with murdering Jaffe are Barry Wayne "Cuda" Brown, 16; Nelso Eddy McGriff, 18; and Warren "Blodi" Brown (no relation), 20.

All have backgrounds of robbery and mugging, police said. Eight of their street pals — gang members and their girls — are charged with recent armed robberies.

Among the armed robberies blamed on the youths were the jobs at the "41" Bar, 4100 NW 17th Ave., and the Shipmate Lounge, W 2nd Ave.

Robbers netted $485 in those two, police said. They averaged about $100 a holdup on the other jobs they pulled.

At both bars, witnesses described the robbers similarly: Negro boys and girls, the boys carrying guns, the girls swinging baseball bats.

"These kids are way out of the bike stealing class," said a veteran Negro policeman. "They need tougher supervision than they get at Youth Hall."

Barry Brown, accused in the slaying, escaped from Youth Hall Feb. 18, and remained at large until arrested for murder.

The day before his escape, he slugged a Youth Hall teacher, police said.

Said one veteran lawman:

"Until police get the power back to conduct this kind of widesweeping investigation into these gangs, I'm afraid the Central Negro District will always be a tough, terrible place."

Today U. S. District Judge Johnson denied a petition of the attorneys of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) for a temporary restraining order forbidding Governor Wallace, Alabama officials and Dallas County Sheriff Clark from interfering with a proposed march from Selma to Montgomery, Alabama. Judge Johnson issued, however, an order restraining the plaintiffs and other members of their class from attempting to march from Selma, Alabama, to Montgomery, Alabama, until a judicial determination is made as to the respective rights of the parties involved.

Information was received by the New York Office from a confidential source that Martin Luther King and several of his contacts in Selma, Alabama, had been in telephonic contact with Harry Wachtel, an advisor of King, and Bayard Rustin, a frequent advisor of King who were in New York. According to the source, it was decided that the march would take place today as scheduled. According to the source, also with King in Selma were Clarence Jones, an attorney for King, Reverend Andrew Young, also associated with the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, and Jack Greenburg of the NAACP.

ACTION

The Mobile Office is being alerted to information received indicating that King and his group plan to march despite the order of the Federal court.

The following is a brief summary of the current situation at Selma and Marion, Alabama.

On 1/2/65, Martin Luther King, Jr., appeared at a public meeting in Selma, Alabama, at which time he announced that he was instituting intensive voter registration drives at Selma and throughout Southern Alabama.

Since 1/2/65, demonstrations have occurred at Selma on a continuing basis. Negroes frequently have marched or attempted to march from Brown's Chapel in Selma which is the headquarters of the voter registration movement to the county courthouse where they have made efforts to register. There have been various disturbances arising out of the demonstrations and approximately 3,500 arrests have been made at Selma since 1/2/65 on such charges as parading without a permit and disorderly conduct.

The situation in Selma over the past weekend was relatively quiet with only two arrests for disturbing the peace resulting from voter registration activity. The leaders of the voter registration movement have indicated that activity in Selma will continue.

Martin Luther King, Jr., is scheduled to leave Selma after a march on the afternoon of 2/23/65 for a trip to Los Angeles and will probably return to Selma 2/28/65 or 3/1/65.

We will continue to closely follow, observe and photograph this activity and keep the Department advised on a current basis. All investigation requested by the Department is handled on an expeditious basis.

At Marion, Perry County, Alabama, voter demonstrations commenced 2/3/65 and will still continue. As in Selma, these demonstrations have resulted in several hundred arrests on charges as disturbing the peace. The most notable incident in Marion occurred on the night of 2/18/65, when Negroes attempted to march from a church to the courthouse. They were confronted by the Chief of Police, T. O. Harris, and a contingent of State Troopers who informed the demonstrators that they were engaged in an unlawful assembly and the demonstrators were instructed to disperse and return to the church. There was screaming, cursing and running on the part of the Negroes which created an atmosphere of disorder.

A Negro allegedly pulled the helmet from the head of a State Trooper and another Negro hit the trooper with a bottle resulting in serious injury to the trooper.

One Jimmy Jackson, the Negro who allegedly wielded the bottle, was shot in the stomach and taken to the hospital in critical condition. In addition to Jackson, a number of other demonstrators were hospitalized allegedly as the result of action taken by the police during the disorder.

At the request of the Department, we are interviewing all of those who were hospitalized to determine the circumstances surrounding their injuries.

In addition to the demonstrators who suffered injuries, Richard Valeriani, a National Broadcasting Company news representative who was covering the situation, was attacked by unknown persons and suffered a head injury. The Department has also requested his interview.

It has been indicated that demonstrations will continue at Marion and a mass meeting and night march have been tentatively planned for the night of 2/23/65.

As in Selma, we are closely following, observing and photographing all pertinent activity and keeping the Department advised on a current basis as well as expeditiously conducting all investigation requested by the Department.

There are presently 10 Agents on duty at Marion, Alabama.

AMERICAN NAZI PARTY OF THE WORLD UNION OF FREE ENTERPRISE NATIONAL SOCIALISTS, ALSO KNOWN AS THE GEORGE LINCOLN ROCKWELL PARTY

In his book "This Time The World," copyrighted in 1961, George Lincoln Rockwell identified himself as Commander, American Nazi Party of the World Union of Free Enterprise National Socialists (ANP - WUFENS), Arlington, Virginia.

The April 4, 1963 issue of "The Richmond News Leader," a Richmond, Virginia daily newspaper, reported that George Lincoln Rockwell had, on the previous day, again applied for the American Nazi Party to be chartered in the State of Virginia, but this request was turned down by the Virginia State Corporation Commission. This action was taken pursuant to an act of the 1962 Virginia Assembly which prohibits use of "Nazism" or "National Socialism" in a Virginia charter. This article further pointed out that Rockwell's party is presently chartered in the State of Virginia as the George Lincoln Rockwell Party.

On August 14, 1964, a source advised that the ANP-WUFENS was organized by George Lincoln Rockwell at his residence in Arlington, Virginia, on February 26, 1959, as an international "National Socialist" movement based on the German Nazi Party created by Adolf Hitler. He added that Rockwell is the dominant force and personality in this party; that he is espousing a policy of hatred against the Jews and Negroes; and that he is seeking, through speeches, distribution of literature and recruiting, to establish a cohesive and dominant political party in the United States and in foreign countries.

According to the "Stormtrooper's Manual," an internal publication of the ANP, the phases of ANP struggle for power are fourfold, namely, first "to make ourselves known to the masses;" second "the dissemination of our program and the truth about the Party;" third "organizing the people who have been converted to our propaganda;" and fourth "the attainment of power through the votes of the newly-won masses."

APPENDIX

NAZI PARTY

FORCES, ALSO KNOWN AS THE
THE LINCOLN ROCKWELL PARTY

On February 17, 1964, Karl Rogers Allen, Jr.,
Deputy National Commander of the ANP, advised that Lincoln Rockwell believes that he has completed the first two phases in his struggle for power and is now well into the third phase. Allen said, however, in his opinion, Rockwell has only completed phase one.

On March 2, 1965, Levison and Clarence Jones discussed a forthcoming meeting between these two individuals and King. Jones said that sometime during the period March 3 through 5, 1965, King would see Levison and Jones. On March 4, 1965, Jones discussed with Bernard Lee, of King's staff, the planned conference between Jones and King and Lee told Jones that King would be available if Jones was to come to King's room, Number 4323, at the Americana Hotel in New York City at 1 p.m., that date. (u)

The following observations were made by Special Agents of this Bureau on March 4, 1965. At 12:31 p.m. Levison was observed to enter the Americana Hotel, ask for the room of Reverend Martin Luther King, Jr., and then take the elevator to the 43rd floor and enter Room 4323 at 12:36 p.m. At 12:40 p.m. King entered the Americana Hotel. Sheriff James G. Clark appeared on ABC television program "Issues and Answers" on 3/7/65, at which time the voter registration activities in Dallas County, Alabama, were discussed.

Clark, in answering the question as to whether the FBI was in Selma during these activities, stated that FBI Agents were there observing and had taken many pictures of the activities. At the request of the Department, we were observing and photographing activities in Selma, Alabama.

Clark was asked to comment on Dr. Martin Luther King's past charges that the FBI had southern-born Agents in the South who were implementing the law and was asked if FBI Agents in Selma were southern-born. Clark stated he knew of one southern-born Agent in Selma, Alabama.

In answer to the question as to whether FBI Agents stay with King when he is in Dallas County, Clark commented that he believed the FBI keeps him under surveillance just as Clark does when he is there.

Clark also stated that several years ago he arrested King in an automobile he subsequently determined was rented for King by the Civil Rights Division of the Justice Department. He stated that the Civil Rights Division denied it rented the car for King but later admitted it. Clark commented that as a result of this arrest he felt King has a personal vendetta against him.

Generally Clark stated he felt turmoil in Selma was a result of outside agitators coming into Dallas County, that the press slanted the news, that the racial problem will not be resolved until the outside agitators will not and let Alabama handle its own problems. He also stated he felt King, in helping the Negro cause, had done more to destroy relations between Whites and Negroes in the South. Clark further stated the use of juveniles in demonstrations was in his opinion the lowest form of protest. He stated that he had received many telephone calls threatening his life and believes these calls have come from all over the country and in his opinion mostly from the South, although he has no way of knowing positively.

For information.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

In his book "This Time The World," copyrighted in 1961, George Lincoln Rockwell identified himself as Commander, American Nazi Party of the World Union of Free Enterprise National Socialists (ANP - WUFENS), Arlington, Virginia.

The April 4, 1963 issue of "The Richmond News Leader," a Richmond, Virginia daily newspaper, reported that George Lincoln Rockwell had, on the previous day, again applied for the American Nazi Party to be chartered in the State of Virginia, but this request was turned down by the Virginia State Corporation Commission. This action was taken pursuant to an act of the 1962 Virginia Assembly which prohibits use of "Nazi" or "National Socialism" in a Virginia charter. This article further pointed out that Rockwell's party is presently chartered in the State of Virginia as the George Lincoln Rockwell Party.

On August 14, 1964, a source advised that the ANP - WUFENS was organized by George Lincoln Rockwell at his residence in Arlington, Virginia, on February 26, 1959, as an international "National Socialist" movement based on the German Nazi Party headed by Adolf Hitler. He added that Rockwell is the dominant force and personality in this party; that he is espousing a "line" of hatred against the Jews and Negroes; and that he is seeking, through speeches, distribution of literature and picketing, to establish a cohesive and dominant political party in the United States and in foreign countries.

According to the "Stormtrooper's Manual," an official publication of the ANP, the phases of ANP struggle for power are fourfold, namely, first "to make ourselves known to the masses;" second "the dissemination of our program and the truth about the Party;" third "organizing the people who have been converted to our propaganda;" and fourth "the attainment of power through the voters of the newly-won masses."

On February 17, 1964, Karl Rogers Allen, Jr., former Deputy National Commander of the ANP, advised that George Lincoln Rockwell believes that he has completed the first two phases in his struggle for power and is now well into the third phase. Allen said, however, in his opinion, Rockwell has only completed phase one.

CENTRAL LOS ANGELES DU BOIS CLUB, formerly known as the Youth Action Union and Los Angeles Youth for Peace and Socialism

A source advised on May 12, 1964, that during the period January through March, 1962, a series of formation meetings to establish a "Socialist Youth Organization," was held in the Los Angeles area. LEONARD POTASH was acting chairman in charge of the group and PAUL ROSENSTEIN and FRANKLIN ALEXANDER were named to a provisional committee to help organize the new group. On April 3, 1962, the group officially selected the name of Los Angeles Youth for Peace and Socialism, (LAYPS), and elected officers.

A second source advised that POTASH, ROSENSTEIN, and ALEXANDER as of 1963 were all members of the Southern California District Communist Party (SCDCP).

A third source advised on May 12, 1964, that the LAYPS was organized with the full knowledge and assistance of DOROTHY HEALEY, chairman of the SCDCP and that several Communist Party (CP) members had been approved by HEALEY to teach Marxist theory to members of the LAYPS. This source further advised that the LAYPS was to be a Marxist study and action group and that the teachings of KARL MARX were to be followed. Source also advised that although the alleged purpose of the group was to promote "Socialism" in the United States, the group considered themselves to be "Communist Party Orientated" and were anxious to study the brand of Marxism associated with the CPUSA.

The first source above further advised that in June, 1963, LAYPS changed the name of the organization to Youth Action Union (YAU) for two reasons: The first being that it was felt that LAYPS had gained a bad reputation because of its association with CP groups, the second because it was felt the word "Socialism" in the title was driving away possible recruits.

The first elected chairman of the LAYPS and YAU who continued in this position until early 1964, was MARVIN TREIGER, who as of April, 1964, was chairman of the Youth Commission, SCDGP.

The first source above advised in October, 1964, that in the late summer of 1964, the YAU affiliated with the W. E. B. DuBois Clubs of America and adopted the name of Central Los Angeles W. E. B. DuBois Club. This club continues to operate under the above name and as of September, 1964, the chairman of this group was TOBY BYE.

The second source above advised that as of September, 1964, TOBY BYE was a member of the SCDGP.

OF WEST LOS ANGELES

On April 28, 1964, a source advised that the W. E. B. DuBois Club of West Los Angeles, was organized by RUTH GREENBAUM with the assistance of MARVIN TREIGER in February, 1964.

A second source advised on April 17, 1964, that as of April, 1954, RUTH GREENBAUM was a member of the Southern California District Communist Party (SCDCP) and that MARVIN TREIGER was chairman of the Youth Commission, SCDCP.

The first source above stated that the DuBois Club was organized mainly to meet the needs of Marxist-Orientated students at the University of California at Los Angeles, (UCLA), but that the club eventually hopes to spread its influence into other areas in West Los Angeles.

The records of the Office of Dean of Student Activities at UCLA, revealed that the DuBois Club has filed for permission to hold meetings and other special functions on the UCLA campus and that permission has been granted. The chairman of the DuBois Club is listed as RUTH GREENBAUM. In making this application, the club listed a statement of purpose which states in part, "We the members of the W. E. B. DuBois Club of West Los Angeles, join together to help further the development of a socialist system, free from ignorance, poverty, fear and the economic power exercised by the few over the many.

"Although we view socialism as the likely solution to the ills of the present society, we do not make this an a priori commitment for any honest person to join with us in fighting for a better America and a more rational world."

A third source advised on March 12, 1964, that at a Communist Party (CP) meeting held in Los Angeles, February, 1964, BEN DOBBS, Executive Secretary of the SCDCP, spoke on the CP youth movement and stated that the DuBois Club was one of two youth groups operating in the Los Angeles area, both groups were Marxist-Orientated and that members considered themselves Marxist.

A fourth source advised on October 5, 1964, that since its inception, the activities of the DuBois Club have been mainly limited to participation in protests against alleged racial discrimination, participation in Marxist classes and participation in conferences which lead to the creation of the W. E. B. Clubs of America in the summer of 1964. This source advised that the W. E. B. DuBois Club of West Los Angeles is now affiliated with the W. E. B. MAR 5 5 17 PM '65

I received your letter of February 27th; however, the article to which you referred was not enclosed. I want to thank you for your complimentary comments and kind sentiments.

Inasmuch as regulations of the Department of Justice pertaining to the confidential nature of information contained in FBI files preclude its public disclosure, I am unable to comment in any manner with regard to any statements which appear in Mr. Drew Pearson's column. I can assure you, however, that this Bureau is ever cognizant of its responsibilities, and whenever a violation occurs within our investigative jurisdiction we make every effort to discharge our responsibilities with the highest degree of dispatch and thoroughness.

With respect to your hypothetical question, any attack upon an individual would constitute a violation within the jurisdiction of local police. Under certain circumstances, such an attack might also involve a violation of statutes within the jurisdiction of the FBI in which case a thorough investigation would be conducted and the results furnished to the Civil Rights Division of the Department of Justice for a determination as to whether Federal prosecution was warranted.

Sincerely yours,

J. Edgar Hoover

The Honorable J. Edgar Hoover
Director Federal Bureau of Investigation
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

The enclosed Drew Pearson column appeared in the "Tampa Tribune" Tampa, Florida Thursday February 25, 1965.

If as Mr. Pearson states "As long ago as last July, he FBI learned that the Ku Klux Klan terrorists tried to waylay Dr. King when he came to Monroe, La., on a civil rights mission. The last minute the plot fell through."

As a Conservative Christian American, it is naturally my desire to see the U. S. restored to the basic principals that made her great. The conservatives I know wish this to be done only by honorable means as we believe good ends can be obtained only by good means.

The question I would like to ask is, If Mr. Pearsons report is correct, is there no means by which such an organization can be tried under the law for this act and proved innocent or guilty?

Many Americans thank God that we have you as the head of such an important body of our government. It cannot be easy to withstand the many attacks that have been made against you. We would like you to know our prayers are with you.

Very truly yours,

This is an informative memorandum to report recent information indicating possible friction developing in the King "camp" concerning who should be the main influence on King. As you are aware, for some time King has been under considerable influence of Stanley Levison, a long-time communist, and Clarence Jones, who also has a communist background. More recently, Harry Wachtel has been coming to the fore as a principal advisor to King. Wachtel likewise has a communist background.

Jones recently related to Levison the details of a conversation Jones had had with Chauncey Eskridge (a Chicago attorney who is close to King) about King's relationship with Wachtel. According to Eskridge, King had caused great concern among many people in the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) because of King's "over dependence" on Wachtel. Eskridge said that he had talked to King about the matter and was told by King that four or five months ago it was very difficult for King to reach Jones and therefore Jones recommended Wachtel to King. As a result, King made the practice of calling Wachtel ever since and, according to King, Wachtel had become "quite assertive and had a take-charge attitude." Eskridge has asked Jones to spend more time on King's business since Eskridge has suggested to King that King "pull back from Wachtel." Jones has indicated he will spend more time for King in the future.

Levison told Jones that Wachtel found it very difficult to work with other people and "that years ago when I (Levison) had the kind of relationship with King that Wachtel does now, Eskridge was a very good friend of mine and there was never any question of Negro-white differences." Levison said that one of the current problems is due to the fact that Wachtel never consults anyone except Bayard Rustin (another King advisor with a communist background). According to Levison, the consensus in the King "camp" is that none of the advisors had ever tried to grab headlines or take charge, whereas Wachtel has done so. As an example, Levison pointed to the incident surrounding King's conferences with the President, Vice President, and Attorney General 2/9/65 and the fact that Wachtel's name appeared in the newspapers relative to the arrangements.

Jones told Levison that he might talk to Wachtel after talking to King. Levison advised Jones not to do so, but instead to let Levison be the one to talk to Wachtel. Levison remarked ~~that~~ he was happy with the prompt response to recommendations that King pull back from Wachtel. Levison is happy that King listened to Eskridge as Levison thought that Eskridge always had "appeared ethically much nicer than me." e

Subsequent to the foregoing Jones-Levison conference, Jones conferred with King concerning Wachtel. King said that Wachtel was jealous of Jones' relationship with King. Jones commented that "they must be very careful about these sort of things because people can knock you over the head with something like that, and they must be checked immediately." King said that they must be careful that "no white man looks like he is calling the shots for him." Jones and King discussed a possible meeting with "our friend" (apparent reference to Levison) when King is to be in New York City 3/2-5/65. OK

The New York Office is under instructions to afford appropriate coverage in an effort to develop factual information proving any King-Levison meeting, should one occur, in New York City. We are making dissemination of the foregoing to the Department and the intelligence community. We will watch very closely developments within the inner circle of the King "camp" for any potential for counterintelligence. You will be kept promptly advised of any future pertinent developments in this matter.

Dear Mr. Watson:

The President may be interested in the following information concerning Martin Luther King, Jr., which has been supplied by confidential sources of this Bureau who have furnished reliable information in the past.

Clarence Jones and Ossie Davis recently conferred concerning the safety of King. Jones is a close advisor to King and during the mid-1950's held a position of leadership in the Labor Youth League, an organization which has been designated as subversive pursuant to Executive Order 10450. Davis is a well-known author and playwright. During the latter part of 1963 a national functionary of the Communist Party, USA, stated that Davis was then a Party member. ~~✗~~

During the recent Jones-Davis conference, Davis said he desired that President Lyndon B. Johnson's attention be called to recent threats on King's life and urge that the President move to protect King's life because "we cannot afford to lose him at this juncture." Davis said that "their" request should be dramatically made, pointing out that King is doing a job that the United States Government should be doing, and that it was mockery to talk about freedom in South Vietnam when "the one man who is defending it in Selma (Alabama) is in jeopardy." Davis also told Jones that King had suggested calls be made to the President, the Attorney General and me to inform us that King's life is in jeopardy.

Jones suggested to Davis that the following be considered. Jones mentioned the possible submission of an open letter to the President, the Attorney General and me subscribed to by "opinion makers" whom the President would respect because of their stature in the civil rights movement. Jones also suggested the sending of a telegram to the Attorney General subscribed to by about ten nationally prominent people in the civil rights field. Still another suggestion of Jones' is that they have a group of responsible people ask for an appointment with the Attorney General at which time their fears could be voiced. Jones indicated that he intended to soon meet with King at which time these suggestions would be submitted for King's approval.

This information is also being furnished to the Attorney General and interested officials of the Department of Justice.

Sincerely yours,

HELPED IN SELMA

King's Brother On The Job Here

By MICHAEL MAHONEY

Last Wednesday afternoon a small group of Louisville Negro leaders met at Zion Baptist Church, 22nd and Walnut, to discuss civil rights.

The meeting was like a hundred others—a general discussion of local problems—and perhaps should be unremarked. Except for one thing: it was the introduction of the Rev. A. D. Williams King to the civil-rights situation in Louisville.

Mr. King is the church's new pastor. He is also the younger brother of Dr. Martin Luther King, a national leader in the civil-rights drive.

In recent weeks, between finishing up at his last post at the First Baptist Church of Birmingham, Ala., and starting here, he took part in the voter-registration campaigns in Selma and Marion, Ala.

He was there from Monday to Thursday of last week, in his capacity as a board member of his famed brother's Southern Christian Leadership Conference and as its Alabama vice-president, a post he expects to resign soon.

He said he helped organize the biggest voter-registration march in Selma, with well over 2,000 persons participating. He also spoke in Marion, where a crowd of more than 400 gathered to register. He helped organize a march in Wilcox, where there are no Negroes. "I don't know if I can help out the

Plans Some Other Trips

Although Mr. King says he will not go frequently to out-of-state demonstrations, he plans to help organize and participate in a march on the Alabama State Capitol March 8.

Next Friday he will be in Chicago at a meeting of Northern civil-rights leaders who are contemplating a boycott directed against Mississippi.

Mr. King does not regard these trips as deserting his flock. "I must go wherever I can help my people," he said in his office at the church. "I cannot be satisfied with preaching the sermon on Sunday morning and not worrying about how my people are on Monday morning when they go to work, or on Friday when they get paid."

"I'm automatically concerned because I am a minister of Christ."

A Man Of Patience

Mr. King is a short man, heavily built but not fat. He spoke in the slow, courteous style in the Deep South, puffing between sentences on a cigarette he held in one massive hand.

"The Negro wants what is due to him. He knows when he is getting it, and he knows when he isn't. You won't hoodwink him any longer," he said, and then changed it to, "He won't be hoodwinked any longer."

Mr. King refused to discuss the civil-rights situation in Louisville except in the most general terms, saying he was still brand-new to the city.

He did say that he understood Louisville had a voter-registration problem, caused by apathy among the Negroes, and he mentioned also the continuing problem of "housing and jobs among our people."

He added that, from what he could see, there was good communication between the races in Louisville. "If the Negro leadership can let the power structure of the city know what is the problem, they won't be a whole century waiting on it."

Children Are 5 To 14

Mr. King is a graduate of Morehouse College in Atlanta, and studied at the Interdenominational Theological Center there. He and his wife, Naomi, have five children, ages 4 to 14. He is 34, slightly more than a year younger than his famous brother.

His congregation here is reputed to be the largest Negro congregation in the state. Like most, it is made up largely of semi-skilled and unskilled workers, though there are some business and professional persons.

He was asked whether such a position didn't make him automatically a civil-rights leader, even if his name were not King.

Any minister to a Negro flock must be involved in the civil-rights struggle, he replied.

"I think we refuse to understand what the word 'pastor' means. . . . Whether it be King or not, it should be a matter of ministerial concern."

100 Guard King Here

An estimated 100 uniformed officers and plain-clothesmen guarded all entrances and exits and mingled with 1800 guests as a precaution against possible violence or disturbances at Dr. Martin Luther King's appearance here today.

Dr. King had said that frequent threats had been made against his life.

The Negro leader spoke at a World Affairs Council luncheon at the Palladium.

BOMB THREAT

More than 50 uniformed officers under Cmdr. C. W. Crumley were waiting at the Palladium when the first of the crowd started showing up at 11 a.m.

Meanwhile, a police bomb squad had searched the building, top to bottom, following an anonymous phone threat.

The caller had threatened to "blow up that nigger" with dynamite stolen this morning. The call had been made, not to police, but to a newspaper editor.

CALL PRANK

Police said they considered the call a prank but they were not taking any chances.

When Dr. King entered, there were four plain-clothesmen with him, in addition to members of his own party, obviously bodyguards.

Dr. King said on arrival here yesterday at International Airport, the threats are considered seriously but that there are many leaders in the Negro civil rights movement who could assume the leadership if he were assassinated.

Dr. King Tells Death Threats

Dr. Martin Luther King, here to speak at a World Affairs Council luncheon today at the Palladium, says there are frequent recent threats against his life.

He said on arrival here yesterday at International Airport, the threats are considered seriously but that there are many leaders in the Negro civil rights movement who could assume the leadership if he were assassinated.

King said threats to his life increase as the civil rights movement reaches high points of action, such as at Birmingham, Albany and now in Selma.

He condemned acts of violence such as that which claimed the life of Negro nationalist leader Malcolm X, but declined to pinpoint who might have carried out the assassination.

He deplored the fact that Negro groups are fighting among themselves.

King said there is "probable danger" to the life of Elijah Muhammad, leader of the Black Muslim sect with whom Malcolm X had broken.

Citing the civil rights policy of non-violence, King said:

"Violence must be condemned by all people of good will. It is not good for the image of our nation and not good for the Negro cause."

"Negroes now believe non-violence is their most potent weapon in the struggle for human dignity. I want to point out that those practicing violence represent only a small, fanatical minority."

King Under Guard After Blast Threat

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. continued under heavy guard today after threats yesterday including one to dynamite the Hollywood Palladium where he spoke.

More than 100 policemen last night surrounded the Sunset Boulevard block where the integrationist and Nobel Prize winner attended a benefit premiere of "The Greatest Story Ever Told" at the Pacific's Cinerama Theater.

After the film, detectives surrounded Dr. King and hastily escorted him from the lobby into a waiting limousine containing a guard with a walkie-talkie. The limousine pulled away preceded by a motorcycle escort and followed by two cars of detectives.

HEAVY GUARD

While the movie was being shown an officer walked about a ledge of the theater at 6360 Sunset Blvd., and about 15 uniformed policemen stood outside the lobby. Detectives, motorcycle officers and other uniformed policemen cruised the block on which the theater is situated.

The police force included more than 30 plainclothes officers and 20 motorcycle officers. No incidents were reported.

Another large police detachment will surround and infiltrate Temple Israel of Hollywood where Dr. King will speak tonight.

The temple at 7300 Hollywood Blvd., will bristle with patrolmen and detectives carrying out tight security measures, as Dr. King, president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, speaks at 8:30 p.m.

Dr. King's appearance highlights the temple's observance of Brotherhood Week. The holder of 125 citations and awards for his civil rights activities will share the pulpit with Dr. Max Nussbaum and Rabbi Meyer Heller, the congregation's spiritual leaders.

Irving Briskin, congregation president, said today the public is invited to hear the speakers and attend the services, which will be held in the sanctuary.

The heavy police protection began with Dr. King's arrival here and continued to surround the peaceful civil rights worker yesterday when he addressed 2000 persons in the Hollywood Palladium.

RAPS 14 VOTE

Despite the tight security measures taken by authorities, Dr. King insisted he was enjoying his Southern California stay.

"My few days here are a refreshing contrast to Selma, Ala.," he told his audience.

But he rapped California's recently mandated Proposition 13, which nullified the Rumford Housing Act, declaring:

"We are a long, long way from realizing the American dream if we cannot learn to live together."

He also spoke of the voter registration problem in Selma, pointing out that part of his peaceful action program calls for earning the right to vote for Negroes "all over this nation."

BOYCOTT PLAN

Dr. King hinted at the possibility of an economic boycott in Mississippi, saying:

"I think if we were to do this, there would be a change overnight."

While calling for a program of nonviolence, he said:

"We will match your capacity to inflict suffering with our capacity to endure suffering. So, throw us in jail and, as difficult as it is, we will still love."

"We will some day wear you down with our capacity to suffer."

Dynamite Seized In Glendale Raid

Fourteen hundred pounds of dynamite and other explosives, plus a small arsenal of weapons were removed early today from the apartment of a man presently awaiting trial on an attempted murder charge.

Police launched an intensive search for Keith D. Gilbert, 27, of 419 Western Ave., Glendale, after exceptionally heavy police protection was thrown about visiting Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., national integration leader. Anonymous telephoned threats on King's life were made yesterday. Officers said there was no evidence to connect Gilbert with the calls.

The explosives cache was stolen in the pre-dawn hours Thursday from a Hercules Powder Co. magazine in Magazine Canyon, near Sylmar.

It was traced when a company employe took the license number of a fleeing car in which he saw a man loading dynamite.

KEITH D. GILBERT

One of the two men arrested in connection with the traced car led police to Gilbert's garage apartment, where the explosives and "Minuteman" literature were found.

Gilbert was identified by police as a "known racist."

The pair was identified as Rodney Chesney, 42, and his nephew, Ronald Bartell, 24, both of 9867 Wheatland Ave., Sunland.

In addition to the wide search for Gilbert, police were also seeking Stephen Lowe, 20, a sailor, reportedly AWOL from a tanker, who was believed with Gilbert.

King Renews Plea for Boycott of Mississippi

Negro Rights Strategy Stated by Nobel
Prize Winner in Receiving L.A. Honors

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. called Thursday for a total boycott of Mississippi products in seeking to extend nationwide his campaign for equal rights for Negroes in the Deep South.

Choosing a Los Angeles platform to call for action on a strategy he announced in Oslo last Dec. 10, the 36-year-old integrationist leader climaxed an hour-long address with:

"Mississippi continues to make it clear that the life of a Negro means absolutely nothing.

"How long will people of goodwill in America continue to let this happen? How long will the federal government allow Mississippi to trample on the rights of Negroes?

"The time has come for all of us to get together in a grand alliance to prod the conscience of business and industry in Mississippi... to bring economic pressure to bear on the state...

"The hour has come for an economic boycott of Mississippi products... (and) we would see changes almost overnight..."

Atmosphere Tense

The 1964 Nobel Peace Prize winner spoke in an atmosphere of tension as word spread through the 1,800 luncheon guests in the Hollywood Palladium of an anonymous threat to blow up the hall with dynamite stolen from a Sylmar powder magazine earlier Thursday.

Dr. King, being honored by the World Affairs Council and the City of Los Angeles for receiving the Nobel Peace Prize, made no direct reference to the threat, but he said:

"Before the victory is won, some of us will have to get scarred up a little bit."

Search Made

Yet non-violence, he said, is still "the most potent weapon of an oppressed people... If Negroes succumb to the temptation of violence, unborn generations will have the legacy of a nightmare."

Security squads searched the building for dynamite before the meeting began, and both uniformed and plainclothes officers kept a sharp vigil—even to the stationing of sentinels with binoculars on nearby rooftops.

Dr. King directed his remarks toward methods of massive action throughout the nation to press his civil rights program.

Part of the campaign, he said must be pressure for further federal legislation to assure Negroes the right to vote.

"I have been talking to President Johnson and Atty. Gen. (Nicholas) Katzenbach the last few days—and I think they're getting ready to offer new legislation," Dr. King said. "My hope is that we can get it through in the next few weeks."

Appreciation Voiced

Nothing is more dangerous, he added, "than to develop a society where a large segment of it feels it has no stake in that society."

At the start of his address Dr. King expressed his appreciation for plaques presented him by city and county governments here, drawing a laugh from his audience when he said:

"I can assure you the words on these plaques are glaringly different from what Sheriff Jim Clark says about me down in Dallas (County (Alabama))."

He sat on the stage between Mayor Samuel W. Yorty and Harold C. McClellan, president of the World Affairs Council, who introduced him.

Benefit Event

A benefit premiere for Dr. King's Southern Christian Leadership Conference concluded his Thursday schedule here, with the showing of "The Greatest Story Ever Told" at Pacific's Cinerama Theater.

The heavy security was repeated Thursday night at the theater after discovery of the stolen explosives in the Glendale home of an alleged racist.

Stolen Cache of Dynamite, Arms Seized

An estimated 1,400 pounds of dynamite and other explosives stolen from a powder company magazine were found Thursday night in the gun-filled apartment of a known racist who is awaiting trial on a charge of attempting to murder a Negro.

Police said an intensive search was under way for Keith D. Gilbert, 27, a Glendale gun shop owner.

The stolen explosives were found in his garage apartment at 419 Western Ave. along with a large cache of small arms weapons, several cases of ammunition and a 60mm. mortar.

Some Cases Opened

Some of the dynamite cases had been opened, police said, giving rise to fear Gilbert may be armed with some of the explosive.

As a result—and because of anonymous telephone calls early in the day which threatened the life of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., national integration leader — exceptionally heavy police protection was thrown around the Pacific's Cinerama Theater in Hollywood.

Dr. King attended a special benefit showing of the movie "The Greatest Story Ever Told" there Thursday night.

Police said about 30 plainclothes detectives had been assigned to the theater, including 14 men from the special intelligence division and all available Hollywood division detectives.

Cordon Off Area

An additional 20 motorcycle policemen formed a cordon around the area. Each had a picture of Gilbert and license numbers of cars he may be driving.

Descriptions of Gilbert, said to be 6 feet tall and weighing 160 pounds, and descriptions of the cars were broadcast every 15 minutes.

Despite the precautions, Det. Lt. Manuel Pena, in charge of the investigation, said there was no indication Gilbert was responsible for any of the threats. Nor did officers know that Gilbert was carrying any of the dynamite.

Traced Through License

The police were led to Gilbert's apartment by one of two men arrested earlier in connection with the case. They were traced, Pena said, through a license number given to police by a powder company employee who discovered the theft early Thursday morning.

Officers said Gilbert's apartment also contained what they described as piles of "Minutemen" tracts — including membership application forms — and racist literature.

Gilbert was arrested Sept. 17 after a Negro public relations man complained Gilbert fired two pistol shots at him as he sat in his car at Sunset Blvd. and La Brea Ave. He is free on $1,650 bail pending trial.

The 1,400 pounds of explosives, consisting of dynamite sticks, blasting caps and highly dangerous ammonium nitrate, were taken from a Hercules Powder Co.

magazine in Magazine Canyon near Sylmar in pre-dawn hours Thursday.

A company employe, Darold Summers, discovered the theft and gave chase when he saw a man loading explosives in the back seat of a car.

A spokesman for the company said the explosives were enough to "demolish any building and damage buildings a block in any direction." The ammonium nitrate is highly unstable and could be touched off easily. When added to dynamite, the chemical vastly increases the power of the explosion.

Police bomb squad specialists inspected the cache in the Glendale apartment and said there was no immediate danger of an explosion. Adjacent homes were not evacuated.

The explosives were removed after Glendale Municipal Judge Lee B. Stanton signed a permissive court order.

Theft of the explosives touched off a series of bomb threats received by newspapers and sent police searching at least three buildings in Los Angeles.

The Valley Times received a call that said the Black Muslim Mosque at 5616 S. Broadway would be blown up. The anonymous caller also said the Hollywood Palladium, where Dr. Martin Luther King spoke at noon, would be blasted.

Search Made

Police, who have had Dr. King under heavy security guard since he arrived Wednesday morning, searched both places and found nothing. Police throughout the country have been on the alert since the assassination of Malcolm X, Negro extremist leader, and the burning of Black Muslim mosques in Chicago and San Francisco.

A reporter for City News Service told police she received an anonymous call about 7:30 a.m. that Dr. King would be dead within 48 hours.

In view of previously received information that subject King would be in New York City during the approximate period 3/3-5/65 and might meet with his "Research Committee" which includes his advisors with subversive backgrounds, we had the New York Office consider the feasibility of special coverage, especially in the Americana Hotel where King has stayed in the past and where we have in the past been able to effect such coverage.

This is to record that on 3/2/65 Supervisor [redacted] of the New York Office telephoned Section Chief F. J. Baumgardner at the Bureau and advised that it had been determined that (1) King will probably be in New York City for only one day; and (2) the New York City Police Department will be giving King virtually around-the-clock protection. In view of these two factors, Supervisor [redacted] thought that the coverage which would normally be considered would not be feasible for reasons including the element of security. No further consideration, therefore, is being given to effecting such coverage.

RECOMMENDATION:

For information. It is to be noted that New York is separately attempting to effect physical coverage of such key individuals as Stanley David Levison so that if there is a King-Levison meeting, we may still get such information.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

I am an American firmly believing in our form of Government therefore I feel it my duty to send the enclosed to you and I ask you as you read these enclosures to keep in mind the old saying of---- "where there is smoke there is fire". Many feel that Martin Luther King, Jr., as by his actions proved the enclosed to be true.

Americans are disturbed and wish to know why Martin Luther King, Jr., and all other Negro leaders are allowed to go from State to State creating Public commotion? What is happening to States Rights?? I also ask what WISDOM is there in forcing any State in the Union to register undeveloped minds to vote? Sound reasoning tells one education comes first that citizens may be able to vote intelligently or does the President and the Congress wish to continue mass ignorant voting to further their plans to make America over into a dictatorship?

It seems to me Martin Luther King, Jr., and his supporters going from State to State disturbing the Peace of States makes it Interstate and I am of the opinion anything of an interstate nature comes under your jurisdiction to investigate and arrest. Martin Luther King, Jr., and other Negroes there are outside Negroes. I have heard on TV News reports the Sheriff of Selma asking Negroes leading these groups, Do you live here? and their answer was "NO" so again I say I think this is interstate and your business.

Don't you think it is time to put a stop to this degrading National Brawl by the Negroes and force them through law and order by the White Race standards to educate themselves first whereby they will be fitted for the responsibilities Martin Luther King, Jr., is trying to force on them before they are qualified?

Martin Luther King, Jr., would serve his people well if he would follow the teachings of Holy Bible instead of the Communist Training School technique which he so obviously uses.

Thank you for your courtesy in reading my opinions and may Good Health be yours that you may continue to serve America for many years more,

MARTIN LUTHER KING....AT COMMUNIST TRAINING SCHOOL

The above picture was made by an employee of the State of Georgia, at the Highlander Folk School in Monteagle, Tennessee during the Labor Day week-end of 1957. The photographer was sent to the Highlander Folk School by the Georgia Commission on Education.

Those numbered in the picture are:

1. Martin Luther King, Jr., of the Montgomery boycott and the Birmingham riots. Karl Prussion, a counterspy for the FBI for twenty-two years, charges that Martin Luther King belongs to sixty Communist-front organizations — more than any Communist in the United States.
2. Abner W. Berry of the Central Committee of the Communist Party.
3. Aubrey Williams, President of the Southern Conference Education Fund, Inc., The Transmission Belt in the South for the Communist Party.
4. Myles Horton, Director of Highlander Folk School Monteagle, Tennessee.

This Labor Day 1957 meeting at Monteagle was organized and directed by Miles Horton, Don West, Abner W. Berry, James Dombrowski, and Martin Luther King.

The records of Horton, West, Berry, and Dombrowski are clearly outlined in the records of the Senate Internal Security Sub-Committee, the House Committee on Un-American Activities and the reports of state legislative investigating committees of Florida, Georgia, Mississippi, and Louisiana.

The continued operation of the Highlander Center at Knoxville is definitely a matter for the 1965 Tennessee Legislature to investigate.

The Worker, official publication of the Communist Party, issue of June 30, 1963 in a review published by International Publishers (official Party publishers) states:

"it is worth recalling in this year of 'peaceful revolution' — as President Kennedy describes it — that it was the Communists, who for the first time in the 20th century projected the Negro question on to the national political scene for solution"

Re Bureau letter to Milwaukee, 2/17/65.

The records of the Milwaukee Office do not contain any information identifiable with CARL SCHWARZ, 2215 W. Vine, Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

On 2/23/65, [redacted] (Negro), [redacted] advised SA [redacted] that she had resided at that address for seven years and owned the house, which is a duplex. She stated no one by the name of CARL SCHWARZ resided at that address and no one by that name resided in the immediate neighborhood. Most of the residents of the neighborhood are Negro, but [redacted] stated that all the Negroes got along well with the few white people in their neighborhood.

The 1963 Directory for the City of Milwaukee failed to reveal a CARL SCHWARTZ or SCHWARZ as residing here.

On 2/26/65, a check of the records of [redacted] by SA [redacted] failed to reveal anyone identifiable with CARL SCHWARZ; however, the records reflect that a CARL SCHWARTZ, age 48, who is employed as a welder, has lived at several locations within a few blocks of [redacted] between 1948 and 1963. Efforts will be made to contact this person regarding this matter.

SUBJECT: COMMUNIST INFLUENCE IN RACIAL MATTERS

INTERNAL SECURITY - COMMUNIST

Martin Luther King

b7(c)

This memorandum recommends investigation by New York Office, including interviews with former Communist Party (CP) members, in an effort to possibly establish former CP membership on the part of Harry Wachtel, a New York City attorney who is a close advisor of Martin Luther King, Jr.

100-106670-

We had the New York Office review files of CPBEC members during pertinent period in order to identify individuals having a potential for the information we seek. New York now requests authority to interview eight such persons, one of whom is presently on the Security Index (David I. Rosenberg, employed as a draftsman). Others are: Anita Immerman, housewife; Meyer Rosen, bookkeeper for City of New York; Harry Tobman, employment unknown; Martin and Esther Wagner, employments unknown; and Charles and Leah Miras (his employment unknown - she is employed by attorneys). All except Charles Miras and Tobman were previously interviewed. Only one, Rosen, admitted past CP membership when interviewed in 1954; he refused to be reinterviewed in 1961.

NOT RECORDED

New York Office has also located in its files two pertinent letters: (1.) Possibly from Harry Wachtel to Leah Miras and (2.) From Charles to Leah Miras. Contents of letters incriminating Harry Wachtel if handwriting examinations prove he wrote letter number one.

We believe that it would be very worthwhile to our investigations on the communist influence in racial matters and King if it could be established that Harry Wachtel was once an actual CP member. We, therefore propose that the desired interviews be conducted. It is recognized that a degree of risk is involved as information could conceivably get back to Wachtel concerning the Bureau's current interest in members of the CPBEC and Wachtel could connect same with his current activities on behalf of King. We will, of course, alert New York to this possibility and instruct all possible cautions be exercised. In any event our proposed interviews are in accordance with the discharge of our designated responsibilities in this field. We intend to interview all of the above eight individuals except the Mirases now and will consider interview of them after completion of the handwriting examinations concerning correspondence in which they are involved.

RECOMMENDATION:

Attached for approval is a letter to the New York Office authorizing the interviews and instructing that pertinent communications be submitted to the Bureau Laboratory for handwriting examinations.

BACKGROUND:

The January, 1965, issue of "Christian Herald" contained a news column stating that Mr. Hoover's comments on Martin Luther King were "out of character" and that King did not "qualify for such an epithet."

Mr. DeLoach was authorized to telephonically contact Doctor Daniel Poling concerning this item and advised him confidentially of King's background. Doctor Poling apologized to Mr. DeLoach for the article on the Director and indicated that he planned to issue an apology in the next issue of his publication. He followed up with a letter on 1-7-65 to Mr. Hoover; this letter enclosed a copy of a reply to a subscriber assuring him of his (Doctor Poling's) admiration for Mr. Hoover.

CURRENT DEVELOPMENTS:

A copy of the March issue of "Christian Herald" has come to our attention.

Page 4 contains two letters to the editor, one from a Mrs. E. D. Barnett of Plain Dealing, Louisiana, and the other from a Mrs. W. H. Combs of San Diego, California. Both of these letters protested the January issue's news column on Mr. Hoover. Mrs. Barnett and Mrs. Combs are not identifiable in Bufiles.

3 MAR 8 1965

Pages 42 and 43 contain excerpts from a letter to the editor (signed A. S. N. Jr., Ohio) stating that the FBI had categorically answered all of King's charges, followed by comments by Doctor Poling agreeing with statement. Poling also quotes from the letter he had written to the subscriber (mentioned in the preceding paragraph) concerning this matter.
